(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Jan. 6.—Japanese war planes unleashed a fierce attack today against Hankow, seat of the Chinese government and headquarters of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

This afternoon's attack was the second in 24 hours. Twenty-two Japanese bombing planes, escorted by 16 fighting craft, raided the city. Advice said the Japanese aerial armada was greeted by terrific Chinese anti-aircraft fire, but that no plane was hit. They dropped 50 high explosive bombs on the Hankow military airport and broadcasting station and started a huge fire in a nearby slum section of the temporary capital.

Retaliation Raid
The Japanese air raid evidently was launched in retaliation for a Chinese aerial attack on Japanese-held Wuhu, on the Yangtze river above Nanking, aimed at destroying messages in an new move by Japan to strengthen her grip on the huge Chinese metropolis. It was believed the Japanese planned to impose a rigid censorship on all news leaving Shanghai.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Running along the telephone cable at the intersection of Highland and Winter avenues this morning, a large squirrel was seen.

Blanks are being received by local residents for the annual tax reports to be made to the state. Income tax blanks from the federal government will probably make their appearance shortly, also.

Work is under way at the old post office building again this morning and it is expected that the remodeling work will soon be completed so that the building can be occupied by the public library.

With a huge building program about to be started at Slippery Rock and with bids to be taken in March for the state sanitarium projected for the site on the New Castle-Butler road, near Butler, there should be a lot of employment for building trades workers in this area during the year.

It has been called to the attention of Pa. New, that Reynolds street, has suffered a great deal during the winter weather and is now marked with holes and ruts, making driving rather unpleasant.

Quite a number of new poles have been put in place along Sampson street and State street within the past two weeks, replacing old poles which were worn out.

Pa. New is informed that a farmer was noted plowing a field along the Wilmington road, yesterday.

Another large clock has made its appearance on Washington street, for the benefit of the public. It is on the exterior of the Citizens National Bank building.

Continue Search For Farm Hand In Crime

(International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 6.—Police of Ohio and nearby states today continued their search for a 23-year-old farmhand suspected as the slayer of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baumeister and Baumeister's 70-year-old father, Theodore, whose battered bodies were found on their farm three miles southeast of North Lima. As the dragnet was spread for the young farmhand seen driving away from the Baumeister place shortly before the tragedy was discovered, the motive for the mass slayings remained a mystery. Bank authorities denied an earlier report that the younger Baumeister had drawn a large sum of money from his account. An examination showed Mrs. Baumeister had not been assaulted.

President To Call For Naval Program Of Huge Dimensions

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff
Washington, Jan. 6.—President Roosevelt, in the face of threatening international disturbances in the Far East and Europe, today prepared to call upon congress for a naval rearmament program of staggering proportions—by far the largest in peace-time history. The plan for strengthening to a formidable degree the first line of the nation's defense, although official details are yet withheld, envisages, International News is able to disclose, the following:

Program In View
1. Denunciation, in effect, of the London and Washington naval treaties to which the United States has up to now faithfully adhered while Britain, Japan and other nations went on building up their fleets. The treaties expired Dec. 31, 1936.
2. Building the American fleet far beyond the previous treaty strength under a new five-year program of rapid expansion which will replace the Vinson-Trammell Act.
3. Creation of an Atlantic fleet as well as the present main fleet, which for several years has been based on the Pacific coast against the Japanese threat.

4. Construction immediately of a total of five new 35,000-ton battle ships, two aircraft carriers and a number of ultra-fast light cruisers.

Wealthy Broker Is Missing, Wife Not Much Worried

(International News Service)
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 6.—"Pshaw! Who would want to kidnap him?" That was the only satisfaction police obtained today from Mrs. Merwin S. Hart, wife of a wealthy investment broker regarding the mysterious disappearance of her husband. He has been missing from his luxurious home here since Christmas eve.
Hart's parents reside in Hartford, Conn. A possible clue to his whereabouts was that he gave the Yale Club in New York City his address as East Lake Road, Erie, Pa. His disappearance was revealed to police by his son, George, 16, a student at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.

Retires From Court

Washington, Jan. 6.—A supreme court disposed to a broader and more liberal interpretation of the constitution became assured today as a result of the retirement of Justice George Sutherland, and the expectation in well informed quarters that there will be still another vacancy before long.

Thus, the new dealers are congratulating themselves that President Roosevelt really won his fight to liberalize the court, even though he went down to defeat in his efforts to enlarge its membership. Had not Mr. Roosevelt turned the spotlight of controversy on the court they said, the elderly conservative justices probably would have stayed on and on.

Will Use Care
Irrespective of the merits of that argument, Mr. Roosevelt now has another appointment to make. It is one that is going to be made with exceeding care by the president and subjected to exceeding scrutiny (Continued On Page Two)

New Castle Party In Auto Accident

Mrs. Julia Kolodziejski Of

The local party included Mr. and Mrs. John Kolodziejski, of 1607 Hanna street; Marion Kolodziejski, of Electric street, driver of the car, and Mr. and Mrs. Julian Smorsarski, of 1606 1/2 Hanna street. The local residents were in Michigan attending a funeral.

In Monroe, Mich., the local car was struck by one of the four vehicles which figured in the crash. The car traveling the opposite direction caught on fire. Mrs. John Kolodziejski was pinned in the front seat. A large truck, equipped with a fire extinguisher, provided aid in rescuing the local woman, according to Mr. Kolodziejski. The remaining members of the party escaped with slight injuries.

Asks Injunction On Erection Of Parking Meter

South Side Business Man
Seeks To Halt Placing Of Meters On Long
Avenue

CASE IS FILED IN COURT DURING DAY

Action May Lead To Question Being Taken To Higher Court For Decision

Asking that an injunction be granted against the installation of a parking meter in front of his place of business on Long avenue, Harry J. Clark today filed suit at the court house against the City of New Castle, Mayor Charles E. McGrath, Councilmen J. Leon Fink, Joseph D. Alexander, William H. Dunlap and J. Myron Rice, Police Chief Ralph A. Criswell and the Municipal Equipment Company.

The injunction suit is a test case for the entire South Side district. In the petition for an injunction Mr. Clark sets out that he is the owner of an undivided third of the property in which he conducts his business. That the city entered into a contract on June 25, 1937, with the Municipal Equipment Company for the installation of parking meters at a price of $58 each. That on December 29 the city began excavation for parking meters in front of his place of business.

Injures Property Rights
Mr. Clark avers that the installation of a parking meter would injure his property rights in that the meter constitutes a nuisance. He further avers that he is entitled to park his own car or that of his friends or customers in front of his place of business without any tax being imposed and denies the city the right to impose such a tax. Further he avers that it is a violation of the "due process of law" provision of the constitution. As a property owner the easement permitting the flow of traffic in front of his place of business does not give the city the right to use the space for a revenue raising tax, he avers.

He asks that an injunction be granted restraining the city from installing the meters and further asks that if the meters are installed that the city be forced to turn over to him one-half of all moneys taken from the meter box.

With the filing of the suit the city has 15 days to file an appearance and thirty days in which to have a hearing. The hearing will be held before the courts of Lawrence county and regardless of the outcome of this hearing it is highly probable that an appeal to the supreme court will be taken.

If the injunction is granted temporarily and later made permanent the city will undoubtedly appeal the case. On the other hand if the injunction is refused then Mr. Clark, acting for the business men of the South Side, will appeal the case.

In either eventuality, the case will probably get to the supreme court and for the first time the constitutionality of parking meters in Pennsylvania would be decided.

No work on installation of meters is being done today on Long avenue.

Two Facing Murder Charge

GENEVIEVE OWENS MRS. ETHEL STROUSE SOHL

They had "studied" for a life of crime. They'd go anywhere to see a gangster movie. They went to dance halls because they thought they might meet some gangsters and "we wanted to see what it was like to be their molls." But they held up a bus driver at Newark, N. J., and when the driver grabbed for the gun one held on him, she "let him have it"—according to a confession police say they obtained. Thus the crime career of "they," Genevieve Owens, 17, and Mrs. Ethel Strouse Sohl, 20, comes to an end with both facing possible death for the bus driver slaying. Mrs. Sohl admitted she killed the bus driver while Genevieve waited in an automobile, police say. She has a 22-year-old husband in prison on a forgery charge. Both are "graduates" of a reformatory. —Central Press

GREET TROOPS

(International News Service)
HENDAYE, France, Jan. 6.—New Spanish Loyalist successes in the gigantic battle for possession of Teruel, vital eastern front stronghold, were claimed today in reports received from Barcelona, present seat of the Spanish government. These advances said government troops, after days of fighting in snow, ice and sub-zero weather, finally had entered the last insurgent stronghold within Teruel—the civil governor's palace.

Pitiful Sight
There, the reports said, the Loyalists found a gruesome sight—women and children heaped on the floor, many dead from starvation while others were so severely emaciated they required immediate hospital treatment.

A military communique issued at Barcelona stated that insurgent aircraft on the Teruel front were exhausted.

Negro Messenger Shot To Death; $25,000 Is Stolen

Money Destined For Feder-

Louisville, Seized In Holdup

POLICE CHIEF SHOT IN LEGS

(International News Service)
GUTHRIE, Ky., Jan. 6.—Scores of police and federal agents today pressed a statewide hunt for the bandit trio who machine gunned a postal messenger to death and escaped with $25,000 in cash.

Besides killing the Negro messenger, Arthur Mumms, the desperadoes shot his guard, Police Chief C. M. Sherrod, through both legs. The gang staged their daring attack on a downtown street late yesterday as Mumms, Chief Sherrod and Assistant Postmaster Guy Askew were taking a pouch containing the currency to the depot from the branch of the Elkhart Bank & Trust Co.

The money was destined for the Federal Reserve bank at Louisville.

Escape In Car.
Riding in a Ford sedan with Illinois license plates, the bandits drove up to the three men and opened fire without a word. As the machine guns blazed Mumms fell dead with a bullet in his head and Chief Sherrod crumpled to the sidewalk before he could draw his gun.

Two of the gunmen jumped out, grabbed the pouch of money and forced Askew into their car. They drove north and released him a mile out of town.

The holdup was staged so swiftly that the gang was out of sight before pursuit could be organized. It was considered the trio might be the youthful outlaws from Indiana who recently raided a bank there and openly boasted they were going to out-do the Dillinger or Al Brady gangs.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 6.—Gov. George H. Earle today named Arthur W. Howe, Jr., his close friend and present welfare secretary, to succeed Karl DeSchweinitz as head of Pennsylvania's permanent relief and assistance program.

Dismisses Deputy
Harrisburg, Jan. 6.—Gov. George H. Earle today ordered the dismissal of Howard L. Russell, deputy secretary of public assistance, for "disloyalty and insubordination."

Russell's dismissal came on the heels of the resignation of his chief, Karl DeSchweinitz, and as the governor's office unofficially awaited the deputy's voluntary resignation sometime during the day.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 6.—Pennsylvania officialdom today looked for Governor George H. Earle to appoint welfare secretary Arthur W. Howe, Jr., as head of the state's $135,000,000 unified assistance program to succeed Karl DeSchweinitz, resigned.

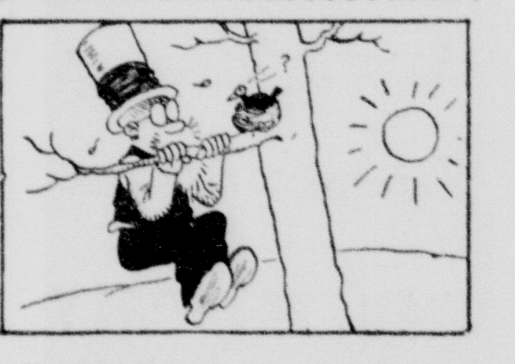

At the same time, International News Service learned that H. L. Russell, deputy assistance secretary, would follow DeSchweinitz out of the relief administration. Russell, who backed up DeSchweinitz in a speech here last night charging there was politics in relief, promised a statement "late this afternoon."

Charges Politics Enters.
Charging Earle with allowing politics to enter the administration of relief, DeSchweinitz resigned his $10,000-a-year post less than two hours after the chief executive had made known his decision to retain him as secretary of public assistance. The relief head's retirement settled once and for all the bitter controversy here for two months over (Continued On Page Two)

Business Leaders Will Be Heard

Senate Probers To Hear Knudsen

Other Heads Of Auto Industry To Appear Before Committee Later

RECESSION CAUSE BEING EXPLORED

By ROBERT A. MCGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Opening a direct inquiry into causes of the business recession, the senate unemployment and relief committee today summoned leaders of the automobile industry who are pursuing opposite paths in the emergency.

The committee will hear from William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors, who has announced a lay-off of 30,000 employees and a 24-hour work week for 205,000 others, and A. E. Barit, president of the Hudson Motor Car Co. Barit is doubling his working force to 12,000 to produce a new car in the low-price field.

Knudsen will take the witness stand today. Barit is scheduled to appear next week.

To Get Free Rein

The first representative of big industry to be called before the committee will be given full rein to discuss administration policies as they relate to business, and anything else pertaining to the industrial slump, unemployment and relief, Chairman Byrnes, (D) of South Carolina, said.

Knudsen was asked to testify when he announced the production curtailment at the height of the attack on big business by Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, and other administration officials. Although Knudsen said the cut had been planned before the attack reached its peak, he intimated strongly that some administrative policies work to the disadvantage of big business, and that the lay-off was due, in part, to these policies.

Obviously taken back by De Schweinitz's swift retaliatory move, the governor told newspapermen he would have "no comment" to make for at least 12 hours.

Many of these were to the effect that Howe, if appointed, would flank himself with Major Philip Matthews and George P. Miller, both of Pittsburgh, as deputies. Insurgent headquarters at Salamanca, meanwhile, claimed that the Loyalist advance on the Teruel front "continued," and that several new positions on the outskirts of the strategic city had been occupied.

Many Priests Killed

Salamanca also claimed in an official statement that the Loyalists have murdered at least 16,286 priests in a little less than two years.

The purported murders, said the insurgents, took place since the elections of February, 1936, which brought a leftist government into power and produced the rightist army uprising that led to the civil war.

Barcelona advices, telling of what was claimed to be a complete collapse of the insurgent bid to recapture Teruel, said that remnants of the insurgent garrison there were driven, with women and children "hostages" into the eastern city's labyrinthine underground passages, where they were caught "like rats in drains."

chairman, regarding what the government could do to help business, the tall, grey-haired manufacturer said:

Usually Better In Spring

"We are in the midst of a business recession but business usually picks up in the spring, and I don't think this year will be an exception."

"I hope people will have a little more confidence in the future than they have now."

"We need a little reassurance in order to let them feel this is going to be a normal year."

Despite a lay-off of 30,000 men and a 24-hour work week for 205,000 others, Knudsen said General Motors is going ahead with expansion projects.

To Equip Five Plants

"Are you going to equip two new plants?" asked Byrnes.

"Not two—five," said Knudsen. Asked by Byrnes why sales of General Motors had slumped, Knudsen replied:

"The average man feels work is slack and he won't commit himself. Even if he needs a new car he is holding onto his old one."

Many senators not members of the unemployment committee joined the throng in the hearing room. Senators Vandenberg (R) and Brown (D) of Michigan, were early on the scene.

Hudson Motors reported it is increasing its force and evidently does not agree with the view there is no market for cars," Byrnes observed. Knudsen merely smiled and made no reply.

Final Base Stone Being Placed At New Airport Site

Will Resume Black-Top Spreading As Soon As Weather Conditions Permit

Although winter weather has halted most of the work on the new airport on the Youngstown road, base stone to complete the taxiway and portions of the A-B runway is still being hauled to the site and put in place by WPA workmen.

Spreading of the black-top surfacing has been suspended entirely, as it is impossible to work with this material in anything but warm weather.

According to W. N. Todd, head of the local Works Progress Administration, the spreading of the black-top will again be resumed just as soon as the weather will permit in the spring.

N.L.R.B. Battle Against Ford Goes To Courts

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The National Labor Relations board's fight to make Henry Ford sanction union organizing in his plants moved into the court today.

Fast exploding legal fireworks jarred the controversy out of its preliminary quasi-judicial stage. There remained the formality of a board attendance in a U. S. circuit court of appeals, but this was a technicality. The papers were already prepared. The appearance may be made today, perhaps in Cincinnati. When this routine is accomplished the case of the government against Henry Ford will go on the document for argument. That brings the fight before a bar just one step below the supreme court.

From now on Henry Ford and the labor board must quit ordering and defying and "tell it to the judge," observers said.

Board denial of Ford's petition for a new hearing on the charges filed originally against him by John L. Lewis' CIO and almost simultaneous defiance of board orders by Ford, brought things to a head.

In its order against Ford the N. L. R. B. found him guilty of violation of the Wagner labor relations act on a number of counts. The order directed Ford to cease and desist all efforts of prevention or suasion against union organization among his workers, and to re-employ with back pay 29 men the N. L. R. B. found were discharged for union activities.

The World At A Glance

stead of talking about an election, which implies choice, Stalin did not herald the Soviet plebiscite with some such words as these. In 1935, when the new constitution was framed, we hoped to be able to allow much more criticism and opposition than we have in fact found practicable in view of the alarming foreign situation and the serious penetration of Fascist agents and Trotskyite opinions in Soviet Russia. What we have done is to give a demonstration that the overwhelming mass of Soviet citizens support the present regime; we have given them the chance of registering a safe and secret vote against it if they desired; we remind the world that today in Soviet Russia millions of citizens "participate," as your Webbs put it, in government in one way or another; in short, in a vast country, largely illiterate until we educated it and containing millions of nomad tribesmen who had no idea what a vote meant a few years ago, it is a wonderful thing to have developed the idea of self-government. "Moreover, we have not imposed, as some governments have, a mere list of party candidates; we have encouraged the choice of numerous non-party representatives, men popularly and freely acclaimed by the mass of the electorate, and in so doing we have provided that within the general framework of Stalinite orthodoxy there can be genuine criticism and discussion.

"We have not taken away, as have the Fascists and Nazis, existing rights, but on the contrary granted new rights; we have not destroyed free institutions, but provided new institutions which, even taking into account all the limitations (and executions) still found necessary among the administrative class, means for the mass a great increase in education and liberty."

"If Stalin had said something of this kind, his plebiscite would have been equally impressive as a demonstration of solidarity, and much less open to the smiles of foreign observers."

Fletcher Valentine knows tobacco values...like so many other independent experts he smokes Luckies!

"I've bought 4,000,000 pounds of tobacco at auctions in the past ten years," says Mr. Valentine, independent buyer of Westfield, N. C., "and my bread and butter depends on making the right bids. That's why I have to know tobacco values."

"Now I've smoked Luckies ever since 1918, and the reason is, they suit my taste to a 'T'. Nobody knows better than we tobacco men that Luckies are made of the finest center-leaf tobacco."

Yes—and that isn't all...Luckies' exclusive process, "It's Toasted" takes out certain irritants naturally present in all tobacco—even the finest! The result is that you will find Luckies not only taste good but are easy on your throat.

Surely, independent experts like Mr. Valentine make good judges of cigarettes... Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes combined!

abused him. I hinted that he was a faker. I told him there was nothing tragic in his misery, that it wasn't even pathetic. That if he wanted friendship and sympathy he had to earn it. That if he was looking for publicity by killing himself, he was never more mistaken in his life. He wasn't that important yet. He wasn't even a pretty girl. He wasn't a promising, useful young man. . . . And all he'd get in the newspapers would be a half a dozen lines of small type. . . . And why should a healthy young fellow without a responsibility in the world go to all the trouble of killing himself—when it would be so much more fun to stick around and see what happened.

He glared at me, stood up and walked out. Didn't say thank you, either. . . . And I confess, that I shuddered and watched the death notices pretty closely for a few days. But he didn't kill himself and about a month ago I saw him walking down the street with a nice-looking young woman hanging onto his arm. He didn't dodge my glance. He looked squarely at me and grinned and I think he winked. We didn't stop. I went my way, he went his, and I haven't seen him since. I expected a telephone call from him but I didn't get it.

I like to think that I shook him up, but I can't even be sure of that. Maybe that young woman did it. Perhaps his melancholy ran its course like a bad cold and is forgotten. . . . But I'm telling you it was a great thing to see how that self-pitying youngster had turned into a self-respecting laughing man.

Fear Avalon Insurance Salesman Is Victim Of Foul Play By Holdup Men

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—A countrywide search was underway today for John H. Bierer, 25, an insurance salesman who disappeared from his Avalon home Tuesday.

Police said they feared he may have been attacked and robbed when they were apprised he was carrying about $250 in collections.

County detective Robert Robinson, in charge of the investigation, said Bierer's accounts with the Prudential insurance company, for whom he worked, were in good order, and that he was happily married.

Bierer's disappearance was reported Tuesday night when he failed to return home from work.

City Plans To Build Sidewalks

Would Use W. P. A. Labor And Have Cost Paid By Property-Owner

Council decided at their city hall session this morning to request the WPA to approve a project whereby sidewalks may be constructed here.

The federal government will be asked to provide $15,415.00 and the city will furnish $9,330.16 to do the work.

However, the property-owner will be assessed the cost of materials. Whether this cost will be paid before or after the work is done has not yet been decided upon.

According to City Engineer Glenn R. Throop, the city would lay 12,000 lineal feet of sidewalk, five feet wide, with concrete four inches thick.

Under his plan, he estimates the cost to the property-owner would be 12 cents a square foot instead of 22 cents per square foot, which he reported today is the prevailing cost.

Council decided to ask the WPA to approve the request in order that work may be started in April.

Between now and April details of the project, such as to where the sidewalk will be laid and the method of payment by the property-owner will be decided upon.

Would Operate Freight Line

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—A hearing was held here today by the Public Utility Commission on the application of A. R. Kuitart, of the Pittsburgh-Erie Transportation Company, to operate a motor freight service between Pittsburgh and Erie.

Kuitart seeks approval of the purchase of the bankrupt Pitt-Erie Motor Freight Company and transfer of its franchise. The move is opposed by the Irwin Transportation Company, of Pennsylvania railroad, and American Railway Express.

Maine's Champion Potato Eating Family

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Greenlaw, of Solon, Me., won a prize of thirty sacks of Maine potatoes offered by Gov. Lewis O. Barrows for setting the best record of potato consumption during Potato Week. The sixteen members of the family average more than two pecks a day the year around. The family will eat at least three big pans full of the tubers for supper. They have potatoes at every meal, consider them the "staff of life." (Central Press)

Gives Birth To Baby On Trolley

Mother Taken From Car To Hospital, Baby Forgotten, Is Sent To Hospital

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6.—Mrs. Geraldine Worthy, 18, gave birth today to a baby boy on a street car here without the knowledge of persons who assisted her.

Mrs. Worthy's step-father, Charles Veates, who was accompanying her to the city hospital, and Patrolman John Cullinane, a passenger on the car administered to the young mother. Veates and Cullinane were so occupied in treating Mrs. Worthy that they did not notice the baby.

The two men carried Mrs. Worthy from the car and summoned an ambulance. Meanwhile, a woman passenger on the car discovered the new-born baby and took it to an engine house where firemen called an ambulance.

Ambulances carrying the mother and child reached the hospital at almost the same time. The baby, weighing only one pound, six and three-quarter ounces, was placed in an incubator.

Boom Sumners For Vacant Court Post

Friends Of Representative Sumners Of Texas Adopt Unanimous Petition

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The House Judiciary committee today unanimously adopted a resolution petitioning President Roosevelt to name the committee's chairman, Rep. Hattin W. Sumners (D) of Texas, to the Supreme court vacancy that will be caused by Justice Sumners' retirement January 18.

Sumners, the House leader against Mr. Roosevelt's court reform program in the first session of this congress, was absent when his colleagues took their step.

The resolution praised Sumners, who is 63, for "his record in both private practice and public service, his poise, judicial temperament, erudition, clarity, brilliance and broad humanity," and his "liberal progressive attitude and knowledge of government."

Council voted this morning at city hall that, should the Gamewell Company restore the police signal system to the condition desired by City Electrician Rex Hughes the contract with the company, cancelled recently, will again become effective.

Some time ago the city cancelled the contract for various reasons and the company has now agreed to put the system in good working order. The city electrician informed the company as to what was necessary to do this and according to their letter to council today, they agreed to his recommendations.

The contract, if resumed, will have several years to run. When a total of $15,000 has been paid the system will become city property.

Under Hughes' recommendation some lines will be rerouted and boxes relocated. The company will do the work.

Council delayed in reporting from committee, a bill which, if adopted, will provide for the collection and disbursement of monies collected from parking meters at the meeting today. However, it was indicated a favorable report may be made soon.

The bill was delayed at the suggestion of Solicitor William D. Cobau because he desired to obtain from the Municipal Equipment Company a written agreement whereby the company will bear the entire cost of the installation of the meters.

Under this arrangement the cost of installing the meters will be deducted from the company's 85 per cent of the collections. None of the installation cost will be deducted from the city's 15 per cent.

He said he "passed out" and found himself lying on the ground. He hobbled home and several hours later was removed to the hospital.

Ellwell was not able to give detectives a description of the men or the auto, they report.

Henry Ford Has Faith In Self

PEACE VOYAGE IS RECALLED

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Laborites (C. I. O.'s and A. F. of L.'s alike) seem unable to believe that Henry Ford will have the nerve to defy federal law, economic trends, the pressure of public opinion and everything else in his policy of resistance to the independent unionization of his plants.

Evidently they do not know Henry Ford.

He may not succeed in preventing his outfit's unionization, but he has the nerve to try it. He not only has nerve; he also has what he calls "faith."

STEWART'S CONTACT
As I have recounted heretofore, I once spent a couple of weeks in close contact with Ford, as a correspondent, on board his celebrated peace ship, the Oscar II (recently broken up to provide scrap metal for today's military purposes).

I became quite well acquainted with him, too, until finally he scratched me off his list, because my pacifistic "faith" was not as implicit as his own.

But I am speaking of the initial 10 days of the cruise, while he still considered me friendly to the expedition—which I was, on the theory (concerning which I was very skeptical) that it could do any good.

TO NEUTRAL LANDS
Anyway, those peace crusaders set sail from Hoboken with about 300 passports authorizing them to visit such European neutral countries as they chose to visit, but not to enter any belligerent countries. Mark that. It was the ukase of the Wilson administration, which did not desire to forbid the voyage, but which, nevertheless, viewed it with disfavor, fearing that it would raise heck.

Well, our itinerary was as follows: Hoboken (then neutral) to Christiania (now Oslo, Norway, and neutral likewise); thence overland to Stockholm, Sweden (all neutral); thence southward to Copenhagen, Denmark (another neutral capital and country).

From the southern tip of Sweden to northern Denmark a ferry-ride was involved, but it wasn't disputed by the belligerents—a couple of hours steaming.

All this was neutral—as per passports.

A PROBLEM
But Denmark to Holland—where the "peace" were scheduled to wind up their European tour and take the S. S. Rotterdam backward to the U. S. A.?

How get from Denmark to Holland without crossing belligerent soil?

Oh, a ship could do it. But that would have necessitated crossing the whole North sea. The North sea, at that time, was full of floating mines. A submarine was liable to pop up at any juncture and take a shot at the first floating craft, without investigation.

"BY FAITH!"
Henry Ford himself admitted that it would be a bilious stunt.

"We'll do it," he assured me, "by land."

Yes, but how by land?—without crossing belligerent soil, in World war time Denmark and Holland?

"Why, by faith," answered Ford.

AS STEWART SEES HIM
Ford is well-intentioned in a certain way.

He told me, on that trip, that he had no objection to employing penitentiary graduates.

Within reason, o. k. Nice penitentiary graduates probably should not be discriminated against, as doubtless generally is done. Still, when they kick the tar out of union organizers, one can't but wonder if that wasn't the particular job that they were hired for.

Ford believes in "faith" of his own kind.

The newest coat silhouette is the straight line coat. However, the fitted style is popular, too, because this type is warmer.

EYESTRAIN PICKS ITS VICTIMS YOUNG

Precious eyes...sparkling and clear...how long will they remain that way? Too often parents assume, because their children's eyes are normal, that nothing need be done to keep them so. Scientists, however, tell us that by school age, two out of ten children have something wrong with their eyes. Your eyesight specialist, who should always be consulted when impaired vision is suspected, will tell you GOOD light is a sure protection to GOOD sight.

Good light means enough PROPER light in enough places. Glareless light floods the room evenly, softens shadows in every nook and corner, and helps to prevent eyestrain. The abuse of children's eyes at an early age may mean that defective vision is their lot for life!

You can be certain your lighting is correct. We'll help you do it, if you wish, by checking your present lighting, without charge, and then advising with you. Perhaps minor changes in your present arrangement, such as the size of bulbs or lamp shades, will be all that are needed.

Sight Is Priceless--Light Is Cheap

The 36 hours of eye comfort that may lie in the difference between a 60 and a 100-watt bulb costs approximately 5c—the price of a cigar.

The nickel you spend for a spool of thread will burn a 25-watt lamp in the nursery for 37 hours—a comforting light should the baby awaken.

For the price of a loaf of bread, electricity lights a 150-watt bulb for 19 hours. Used in an I. E. S. Floor or Bridge Lamp, this size bulb insures safe, comfortable reading.

Airships Will Resume Flights

Helium Gas Will Be Sent To Germany For Use In New Dirigible

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—On an evening in June, a giant trans-Atlantic Zeppelin will float down from the sky over Lakehurst, N. J., for the first time since the airship Hindenburg flared like a meteor, then crashed in a tangled jumble of ruins carrying most of its passengers and crew to horrible death.

The first shipment of helium, the non-inflammable gas on which the United States has for a long time held a monopoly, is scheduled to go forward to Germany about Feb. 1. Edward P. Farley, president of the American Zeppelin company, today announced plans for resumption of trans-Atlantic flights.

Of Mice And Men Is Disappointing

Even Blase New York Turns Against Play Which Was Recently Hailed

GEORGE ABBOTT
REAL PRODUCER

By O. O. McINTYRE
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The season's dramatic shocker, "Of Mice and Men," is not doing the turn-away business that the critical raves, following the first night, might indicate. Almost to a man, the reviewers, in dazzling rhetorical nips-ups, hailed it as the opus of the season.

The plot is one of pathological horror, concerning the strange bond between two itinerant ranch workers. One promises a dying relative to take care of a dim-witted pervert who delights in carrying about and talking to a dead mouse that he has squeezed to death.

In the end the degenerate garrottes a tartish maid of the bunk-house and his O. O. McIntyre mentor, to save him from a posse, puts a bullet through his head. But it is not so much the ghastly theme that repels but the quite unnecessary exploiting of unprintable epithets.

New York is funny that way. Wicked and overly-sophisticated as it is reputed to be, it will shrink more than the cross-roads from flagrant licentiousness in theatrical fare. Such plays as "Of Mice and Men" appeal almost solely to the out-of-town trade.

Many regard George Abbott as the most astute producer of the day. He has a flop now and then, but generally his successes are spectacular. A capable actor himself, he is superb in directing. Few in the theatre are so little known and self-effacing. Indeed, self-effacement is distinguishing the Rialto lately. There is none with the Ziegfeld and Belasco flair for erupting headlines. Two producers are without press agents or desire to string their names in lights. Still left, of course, is Billy Rose, who does not share in such modesty.

The bounding Elsa Maxwell, at least when on display in the public restaurants, is a study in perpetual giggle. Despite her rather dumpy size, she suggests a hummingbird in flitting from table to table. She will not stay put, and one wonders when she eats her food. But adore her, as many do, or just be amused, she is unique in a topsy-turvy world. For years, despite depressions, recessions and market crashes, she has ridden the crest by leading society around by its figurative nose in the enjoyment of childish games. In her solitude, like Puck, she must laugh at what fools these mortals be!

There is a topic for one of David Grayson's gentle essays in the people we see so often in New York that we become quite familiar, but whose names we never know. A fellow at the Grand Central Information Bureau, for instance, has long been a friend. During lulls at his job, we have exchanged minor confidences. I know all about his family and his ambitions without knowing his name or exactly where he lives, which somehow makes our contact more interesting. He believes, I gather, that I have some connection with the station. I suppose there are at least 50 around town whose acquaintance is on the same basis.

New York restaurateurs have had trouble since prohibition repeal weeding out the bad egg waiters left over from the speak-easy era. Quite naturally, most of them acquired a philosophy of get it today for tomorrow we may be closed. They learned many sly gestures in gyping that have had to be uprooted in a day of more leisurely dining and careful check adding. The waiter on his toes today in such places as the Stork Club can be thoroughly honest and make around $80 a week. The calling is attracting a surprising number of college men, who will stay with it until economic adjustments are more pronounced.

Thingumbobs: Will Lengel is now in charge of all of Theodore Dreiser's literary affairs. Steve Hannagan, who put Miami Beach on the map, is now ballyhooing Porto Rico. Major Bowes has a sister who is a talented pianist and poet. Gene Fowler is dramatizing the Associated Press for the movies.

City life vignette: His hat blew out of the bus window spang into the middle of the busy avenue. But when he got out to retrieve it his arms were so full of bundles he just kicked it to the curb, where a passer-by placed it on his head and sent him merrily on his way.

AROUND CITY HALL

Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell stated today that a man and a boy attacked by a mad dog December 26, are undergoing the Pasteur treatment. A man in Wampum also attacked by the same dog is also taking the treatment. The dog which went mad and one of three other dogs attacked were killed. The two other dogs attacked have been tied up for 100 days, representatives of the bureau of animal husbandry, Harrisburg, have informed Criswell.

Police sergeants at police headquarters recently have had their duties lightened somewhat due to the fact they no longer take reports of automobile accidents in which no persons are injured or the damage does not amount to, or over $50. For a year or more a considerable part of their time has been consumed by taking reports of accidents in which no one was hurt and the damage was trivial.

Acting Commissioner of Traffic Thomas Jones has been kept busy recently repairing traffic signs. Patrolman James Hagan is off duty owing to illness. M. J. Young, police sergeant, is confined to his home on account of illness. So far no important changes in the personnel of the department of streets has occurred. Director William H. Dunlap is in charge of that department and was inducted into office last Monday.

ALL BEARS NOT GENTLE

(International News Service)

JUNEAU, Alaska—Steward Edward White, famed author, once wrote of the gentleness of all bears. This week mute evidence of the exception to the writer's statement was seen in St. Ann's hospital where Andrew Dahl, 54-year-old sportsman, lay mauled and torn. While deer hunting, Dahl explained, a brown bear jumped on him from behind a tree then bit and clawed Dahl's arms and legs.

Farm Bill Must Stay Within Its Estimated Cost

President Warns Congress Not To Exceed Estimated Cost Of $586,100,000

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—President Roosevelt has served notice on congress that the proposed farm control program must not exceed a cost of $586,100,000 during the fiscal year starting July 1.

At the same time, the president in his budget message, again asked congress to abandon one of its favorite pork-barrels by reducing expenditures on federal-aid road programs to pre-depression levels.

The president estimated the cost of the agricultural adjustment program in the fiscal year 1939 would be $586,100,000 compared with $442,500,000 in the 1938 fiscal year, the increase being attributed to subsidy payments to cotton producers.

Economy Program

Contrariwise, Mr. Roosevelt drastically cut the agriculture department's administration expense account from $150,000,000 to $124,900,000 as part of his general economy program.

Previously, the president stated that any increase in the cost of administering a farm program must be accompanied by additional taxes, otherwise, it must be kept within present bounds.

The commodity exchange commission and food and drug administration each received in the president's budget additional $100,000 appropriations to carry out a broader field of activities, but most other divisions of the agriculture department felt the sharp ax of economy.

Mail frauds cost residents of the United States a billion dollars each year, the U. S. postoffice department estimates. This figure is large, but the total loss from all forms of holdups, burglaries and thefts.

Large New Kitchen Being Built At Cascade Park

Erection of a new building, which is to be a kitchen, 55 feet by 15 feet, in dimensions is under way in the picnic grove at Cascade Park.

The chimney of the building, will be on the east side, and will have an inside and outside fireplace, which will accommodate gas hot-plates on the inside for cooking purposes, and on the outside there will be brickwork, approximately three feet high, and two and a half feet wide, on which a large steel plate can be placed for cooking thereon, and also can be removed and used as an open fireplace, for toasting marshmallows or hot-dogs.

The outside will be maintained with wood fuel, and can be used throughout the year. The building will have a cement floor, which will be well drained and maintained in a clean and sanitary condition.

The erection of the building is being done by W.P.A. workmen, and the city is furnishing all the materials. It is expected that it will be completed by the latter part of this month. It is located in the center of the grove, thus making it very convenient to all the picnickers.

The stone, which is being faced, and used with the brick in building the fire-places, is being quarried at East Brook. The building will be well lighted throughout. At the west end there will be a concession, where a complete line of picnic necessities will be maintained for purchasers.

In addition to the kitchen in the grove, a new and up-to-date restroom, will be erected of stone and brick. This restroom will be located a short distance from the grove. It is expected that this building will be completed in time for the opening of the park season.

On Court House Hill

REALTY TRANSFERS

Amos Townsend to William Geiger, Little Beaver and North Beaver townships, $10.

Dan Cupid had a busy year in Lawrence county in 1937. Figures released by Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar show 1244 marriage licenses issued during the year. This was a substantial increase over 1936 when only 913 were issued. One of the reasons for the increase is probably the fact that West Virginia now has restrictions on getting marriage licenses immediately and the boys and girls from Ohio are coming to New Castle. Formerly when a couple got the itch to hitch, they could go to West Virginia and get the license and the wedding ring in the same day.

Another set of figures, released by Probation Officer Jack M. Dunlap give another angle of married life. In the year 1937, $19,401.90 was paid into Dunlap's hands by husbands who had been ordered to contribute to the support of their children.

This money is sometimes wrongfully called alimony. No alimony will be granted by any Pennsylvania court after a divorce, save where the wife is insane. In this case the husband may be assessed a set sum for the care of the wife. There is one form of alimony "pendente lite" which is permitted. The phrase means "pending litigation and is allowed sometimes in a case where a woman has grounds for divorce, suits, but has no money to pay costs and attorney's fees. The alimony ends with the divorce.

Up to a few years ago when men were assessed for the support of their children, they paid the money over to the mother of the children. Now they pay it to Mr. Dunlap and he turns it over. In this way the gentleman who has to be ordered to support his children is not so apt to forget what day his contribution is due.

Dog owners are either careless or just don't give a hoot in this county. There are 9,000 dog licenses stacked in the office of County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland, but thus far only 610 have been issued.

A parole was granted on Wednesday to Edward C. Ryan who was serving a four months' sentence in the county jail for conspiracy to manufacture illegal liquor.

There will be no civil court held during the weeks of February 14 and 28. An order was handed down by the court on Wednesday cancelling the courts due to insufficient cases to warrant it. The sheriff is ordered to draw no jurors for the two weeks mentioned.

The first partial accounting of the estate of Anna Maude Davis has been made by the executor, Edwin S. Cooper. Attorney Edwin K. Logan has been appointed as auditor.

The board of county commissioners held its first stated meeting on Wednesday morning at 9:30. A number of bills were ordered paid, some routine business was performed and the meeting was short.

New wall paper will be put on the walls of some of the rooms of the sheriff's residence the county commissioners have decided, after an inspection of the home. The work will start within a short time.

Many NYA Youths Secure Jobs Here

Eighty-Eight Leave NYA Rolls For Better Jobs In Industry And Business

With a quota which was never higher than 200 during the past year and at times down to 140 young people from Lawrence County who were on the rolls of the National Youth Administration here were unusually successful in being placed in private industry.

According to officials of the NYA here, 74 male and 14 females were able to obtain jobs in private industry, some of them through their own initiative and some through the recommendation of NYA officials.

This was in addition to those who were able to advance themselves in WPA work.

The percentage is considered exceptionally good, compared with the placement of NYA workers in private industry in other districts.

At the present time, the quota for the county has been reduced to 140, a low figure considering the need for employment by youths.

Asserts There Are 4,300,000 Known Criminals In Nation

Desperate Gangs Are Being Hunted

F. B. I. Assistant Director Gives Startling Facts On Crime Situation

MANY REPEATERS IN CRIME WORLD

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—There are 4,300,000 known criminals today in the United States and they comprise a more dangerous threat to society than the Dillinger and the other gangs of recent years, according to Hugh H. Clegg, assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"Criminal enforcement today is heavier work than it has ever been before in the United States," the man second to boss G-Man J. Edgar Hoover said here in an interview.

"There are more desperate gangs now than there were in the days of Dillinger and his cohorts," he said.

Repeaters Are Rule

Repeaters are the rule rather than the exception, he added. Twenty-four per cent of murderers, 43 per cent of burglars and 64 per cent of those charged with violation of narcotics acts reappear in prisons after they are released.

Clegg estimated, based on records of the Department of Justice, that with a force of approximately 655 men, the federal bureau of investigation secures an average of 6,000 convictions a year.

The most notorious band of criminals operating in the southern part of the United States is the Hunt-Gant gang of which Alva Dewey Hunt and Hugh Gant are the leaders, Clegg revealed.

Both Hunt and Gant are actively being sought in a nation-wide investigation being conducted by G-Men for bank robberies perpetrated by them in Florida and Alabama. Rewards totalling $2,000 for information of the pair are being offered.

Individual Gangsters Hunted

Individual gangsters who head the G-Men's list of public enemies include Maurice Denning, alleged leader of a gang of bank robbers in the Nebraska area, and Clarence Vernon Stevens, who is wanted for participation in the kidnapping of Mary McElroy, at Kansas City, Mo. Miss McElroy was released after payment of $30,000 ransom.

"The third degree is rapidly vanishing from the scene of law enforcement," Clegg said. "After all, it was really a relic of barbarous days."

As assistant director of the FBI, Clegg is in charge of the training of G-Men and also of the National Police Academy, where representatives of police forces throughout the country are trained in scientific criminal apprehension.

"With the advent of ethical procedure, based on scientific fact, the third degree will soon disappear altogether," he predicted.

Unethical Procedure Decreased
Unethical procedure as named by Clegg included wire-tapping and the beating of suspects to obtain information.

The so-called "lie detector" is used by G-Men for obtaining "psychological leads," according to Clegg.

"We only use the lie detector with the consent of the person being questioned," Clegg said. "The results obtained depend almost wholly on the skill of the interpreter by the person handling it. The results obtained through this means are never used as evidence."

Over half of the crime in the nation today he attributed to youth. "Eighteen per cent of all criminals are under 21 years of age," Clegg said. "Thirty five per cent are under 25, and 51 per cent are less than 30 years old."

Fortunately, he added, "the day of the lionizing of the criminal has ended. It used to be that when a picture of Dillinger was shown on the screen people would applaud."

"Today the law enforcement agent is receiving some of the recognition he deserves," Clegg concluded.

Pennsylvania Has More Than Proportionate Share Of Unemployed Facts Show

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.—Pennsylvania had more than its proportionate share of unemployment when the Federal census of November 16 was taken, according to detailed figures by states made public by Director John D. Biggers.

Of the total of 5,821,035 persons in the country at large registering as unemployed and wanting work, 566,437 were in Pennsylvania. The Pennsylvania group represented 9.7 per cent of the total national figure. Pennsylvania, on the other hand, has but 7.9 per cent of the nation's population. These two figures when compared disclose that unemployment was more prevalent in the Keystone state than the country generally at the time the November count was made.

In addition to the unemployed in Pennsylvania without any type of work, 184,014 persons registered as working temporarily on WPA, NYA, CCC, and other emergency projects. This represented slightly more than nine per cent of the total persons employed on such projects in the country as a whole.

Collectors Are Holdup Victims

Two Collectors For Cigaret Machine Company, Robbed Of $550

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—A lone gunman who stole $550 from a vending machine collector on an isolated Monongahela valley road near Coal Valley, was sought today by police. Hyman Rudin, an agent of the Allegheny Cigaret Company of Wilkesburg, was the victim. Rudin, and his assistant, Wilbur Bittner, of Wilkesburg, were surprised by the gunman as they were about to leave in their car after making a collection at the Granger Hotel in Coal Valley. The thug forced his way into the car and ordered the two agents to drive to a country road.

There he forced them to hand over their money and then drove away in the agents' car, telling them he would leave their machine at a certain spot where they could recover it. This they did, after a four-mile walk.

Girl Reserves See County Jail

Approximately fifty members of the Washington High Girl Reserves supervised by Miss Dorothy Young, were conducted through the Lawrence county jail, Wednesday afternoon.

M. M. Ingham, sheriff, and his deputies, Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Badger, and Mr. Stark pointed out facts of interest about the various types of cells, and the contrast between old-fashioned and present day methods of dealing with crime. After the inspection of the jail, Mrs. Ingham ushered the group through the sheriff's home. This tour, part of the Girl Reserve program for the semester, was found to be both entertaining and educational.

Three Games In Church League

First Presbyterians, First Methodists and First Baptists Win Games

Three fast games were played in the church basketball league at the "Y" floor last night. The Central Presbyterians lost to the First Presbyterians in a fast game, 38 to 28, with McGregor, Duffey, Louer and Jackson doing the bulk of the scoring.

In the second game the First M. E. team nosed out the Third U. P. boys, 30 to 25, in a well played game. Hahn, Hahn, Kerr, Gordon and Headland were the outstanding stars of the battle.

The third and final game found the First Baptist ahead of the Highland U. P. team, 23 to 16, with the work of Reebie, C. Brest and Johnson the best.

Marshall defeated High Point college last night at Huntington, W. Va., in basketball by a 55-37 score. . . . Mace S. Brown of the Pirates hurling staff, signed a contract for 1938 yesterday. . . . Roscoe Brumfield, colored football trainer and rubber, died yesterday at Ashland, Ky., from injuries suffered in an auto accident. . . . Earl Slaughter, 21, Columbus outfielder who led the A. A. in hitting last year, has been sold to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Jack Dempsey, who rode the rods beneath a freight car, then sallied into pugilism and became the heavyweight champion of the world with its resultant riches and fame addressed boxing writers at their monthly meeting in New York last night. Among the things he said was: "All of us who love boxing talk and write too much about the there are in the business. Well, give these bums a chance. Sure, I try to boost a bum fighter. I boost everything. The less a guy knows and the less he has, the more he should be helped, boosted. . . . Knocking. That's wrong with the fight business these days. . . . Another thing. Let us forget all these foreigners. Let us have championships of the United States and to hell with the rest of the world. The only championship that means a thing is the championship of the United States."

As was expected by most fans, Tony Galento, the Jersey mauler, knocked out Charley Massera of Pittsburgh, in the third round at Newark last night. Galento weighed 218 and Massera 185. Galento hit Massera with a left hook that he brought from the canvas. The receipts amounted to $11,000.

Penn State showed fast-breaking plays and plenty of speed in defeating Penn, 40 to 28, at Philadelphia, last night. It was the opening game for Penn. Paced by Prosser, the Nittany Lions center, State got away to a four-point lead in the opening minutes of the game. Three goals by Menzel, Penn center, gave Penn the edge, 7 to 5. However, State came through again and won. Miehoff, forward for the Lions, scored 17 points.

Jess Owens, Olympic hero, may be reinstated by the A. A. U. according to reports from New York City. Shortly after Owens carried off three Olympic titles and won the victorious U. S. sprint relay team at Berlin, Owens was suspended for dodging post-Olympic exhibitions in Sweden. That was in September, 1935. Owens will make application for reinstatement through the Cleveland A. A. U. it was indicated in the New York report.

(International News Service) Business Manager Ed Barrow denied Joe DiMaggio was "secretly" signed by New York Yankees last July at $25,000 for season of 1938. Heavyweight Tony Galento knocked out Charley Massera of Pittsburgh in third round before more than 6,000 fans at South Orange, N. J.

Bobby Riggs, Bryan "Bites" Grant, Wayne Sabin and Frank Kovacs advanced in Miami Bill-moore tennis tourney.

Jesse Owens, negro track and field star, to apply to amateur athletic union for reinstatement as an amateur.

Former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey urged referee as sole judge of fights to spur boxing.

Rambling Around In Local Sports World

Want more baseball dope . . . what's that, Miss Scribbles, our readers claim we are letting down on baseball . . . well if that's the case, let's go on a sandlot rampage. Scribbly . . . in the National League the six leading batters were Paul Waner, Mize, Medwick, Whitney, Camilli and Gabby Hartnett. . . . "Sunny" Jim Bottomley, who will manage and also play the initial sack for Syracuse, all for about close to $10,000, is reputed to be one of the wealthiest lads in baseball . . . a Red Sox outfielder, Roger Cramer, set some kind of a mark in Fenway Park, one of the biggest orchards in the American . . . on August 11 "DiMag" slapped out a pair of four players and another the following day . . . in 1931, Alta Cohen was an outfielder in the Dely, g. . . . next spring he will be on the roster again . . . Anthony Bongiovanni, new Cincinnati le-gislator, has listened to the appeal of sports writers as well as linotypers . . . he has changed his name to Nino Bongy . . . during the 1937 season, Johnny Allen, Indian twirler, passed out only three home runs . . . Harland Clift, of the Brownsies, Lewis of Washington, and Radcliff of the Whitesox, tagged homers . . . Joe Cronin, Red Sox pilot and shortstop, who will be the lone active everyday playing manager, has driven in 100 or more runs during six different seasons . . . Broen Browns chucker, Russ VanAtta, has had a bone chipped from the elbow of his throwing arm, in the hope of setting the league on fire . . . now, Miss Scribbles, let's concentrate on something else.

Former hurricane passers on parade . . . "chiseling" into various floors in the city during the past few weeks, the Rambling Reporter watched quite a few former New Castle high ends still at it . . . Bus Reiber, Pop Adams, Joe Nuro, Joe Kelly and John Teplica feature the Keystone A. C. lineup . . . Gabby DeCaprio, Dale Mumford, Kaiser Tuscano, Eddie Ostrosky, Duddy Perrett and Brownie Ostrosky per-form with the N. Y. A. Scarlet Horde . . . Pussey Neyman, Mike Kulick, Paul Small and Slim Wanio play with the Ger-sons . . . some of the above men-tioned are lads who finished their high school careers and did not at-tend colleges . . . John Carik plays with Slovack . . . Elmer Wanio does his stuff with Epworth M. E. . . . Tim Hutchinson, New Wilmington, will be seen on the Keystone lineup in the Beaver Valley circuit . . . we often wonder about Arch Ridley, Russ Battley, Luke Rowe, Jimmy Shaeffer and Willie Grom-mes.

Gene Klier, a sophomore guard on the Notre Dame club, has an un-usual pastime . . . at home he works with 15 swarms of bees . . . each swarm has between 50,000 and 100,000 honeybees . . . that's all Miss Scribbles.

Score Is 32 To 14 In Game At Ben Franklin High Court

Mahoning junior high basketball team topped the fast Struthers, O., high quintet yesterday at the Frank-lin high floor 32 to 14. The Seventh Ward boys led at the half 14 to 5. The zone defense put up by the Commedowians was too much for the invaders from Ohio.

Captain Ernie Adamo led the scoring with 14 of the points. Or-lando and Piccutta also played well for the Mahonings. For the losers the work of Raney and Williams was the best.

Will Play Second Game In Section Three In Valley Town

New Castle high school basket-ball team will go to Ambridge on Friday night for their second section three W. P. I. A. L. floor encounter and hope to take the verdict.

Pirates Upset Warren Quintet

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—Thanks largely to the stellar performance of Herb Bonn, the Pittsburgh Pi-rates basketball team today held a 49-28 victory over the Warren, Pa., quintet.

The victory, the second over the Warren team, moved the Pirates nearer to first place in the National League's eastern division.

Bonn, former Duquesne university star, annexed five field goals and three fouls for a total of 13 points in the game last night at the Du-quesne university gym. Bonn scored 19 points for the Pirates the night before.

Midget Maury was high scorer for Warren, netting nine points.

Such a meeting could have but one subject—filling the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Harvey Harman, head gridiron coach at the Quaker institution for the past seven years.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The stock market developed a buoyant tone today, with leaders climbing one to two points in moderately active trading.

Steels, rails, coppers and motors were pacemakers on the general market upswing.

U. S. Steel spurted two points and Bethlehem slightly less. Youngstown added a point to its previous close. In the coppers, Anaconda ran up almost two points, along with Cerro de Pasco, while American Smelting gained slightly more.

Case soared more than six points in the farm implements; Allied Chemical ran up close to four; and Westinghouse Electric and DuPont each climbed more than two.

Chrysler advanced almost two and General Motors half as much in the motors.

Aviations, oils, rubbers and mail order shares all were well above previous closing levels.

Football Notables
Share Fine Program
At Grid Banquet

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 6.—With John "Clipper" Smith, "Buff" Donnell, Marshall Goldberg, Edgar "Smiley" Weltner, "Bill" Kern, Alex Fox, Phil Tammara, Thurman "Dutch" Croft, "Denny" Schill, V. R. DeLong and Andy Biori as the all-star lineup, many a touchdown was scored at the community football banquet honoring the entire 1937 squad of Lincoln high school, held Wednesday night at the Shelby club house.

While the affair is being written in the past tense today, it will long remain as a notable occasion in the memory of the approximate 400 attending, forming the other lineup, which was voluntarily powerless to stop the invading eleven being blocked, tackled and laid-low by the barrage of wit and wisdom and finally lost all count of the score with no one stopping for the extra point.

Everyone agreed that the affair was an overwhelming success and a sincere tribute to the high school boys, for which it was intended. All agreed also that Andy Biori, Ellwood City high school's most loyal and ardent football supporter, who completed the many detailed arrangements that made the affair the outstanding success that it was, was the high scorer and star of the long to be remembered occasion.

After the dinner, "Denny" Schill, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and former popular football coach, as toastmaster, blew the whistle for the starting kick-off and with "Clipper" Smith of Duquesne as the kicker, the guest team was soon far on their way. With "Buff" Donnell of Duquesne taking the ball on the second play, it went over for the first touchdown. Mr. Donnell spoke seriously to the boys and advised them "To get down on the books and do a little studying," stressing the need of necessary college requisites.

Introducing the next speaker, Mr. Schill stated that his incentive to teach football was gained through his boyhood association with Edgar P. Weltner of Geneva. Mr. Weltner gave a thoughtful message to the boys and their parents and friends, and one that will be remembered as an inspiration.

Speaking briefly, Alex Fox, Pitt's line coach and formerly of New Castle, said that he had waited 12 years for this occasion and had finally found the man who held the hose (recalling Ellwood's never-to-be-forgotten victory over New Castle in '25).

With Mr. Fox was the great American halfback, Marshall Goldberg of Pitt, who spoke in an entirely humorous vein.

V. R. DeLong, principal of the Ellwood school, spoke extemporaneously and lauded the team highly for their character and ability. From the large attendance, the speaker said that he felt that the question of whether the banquet should be a public event or not was answered for all time.

A fine man to be over a fine group of boys was the introduction given Thurman Croft, the local high school, and he expressed his appreciation of the support and cooperation that had been displayed by the players as well as their following.

"Phil" Tammara, former Ellwood City high school grid star and varsity quarterback of Carnegie Tech, shared honors and was presented with a handsome Gladstone bag by Michael Barletta on behalf of the local Sons of Italy.

As the climaxing feature, "Bill" Kern, Carnegie Tech mentor, was introduced as the principal speaker and his ability to fill that position will never be questioned by the banqueters. While there was a decidedly serious note throughout the message it was intermingled with humor.

Three groups are important to a team in his opinion, the coach, the players and the backing group. The players play the most important part in the trio and he stressed the necessity of following the rules. Dependability is the most important requisite, the boy who never gives up, the boy who never stops trying, the boy who never gets discouraged, the one most appreciated by the coach. The players are usually the best students and he, too, urged the boys to devote themselves to their studies. He paid tribute and highly lauded Tammara as one of his most dependable players.

Among those introduced to the audience were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellis Bell, former superintendent here; Bob Johnson, Geneva college gridder; Charles Cox of this city and Ernie Reed of Beaver Falls.

Preceding the program, William Jones, prominent local soloist, sang two popular selections and led the group in pep singing.

Following the program, pictures were shown of a number of the important football games of the past season and pictures of the Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day.

As the climaxing feature, Mr. Biori presented 24 lettermen with beautiful gold plated emblems as his own personal gift. Those awarded the emblems were: Tommy Jones, Philip Wiegler, Jack Snare, Frank Koach, Walter Beilago, Richard Newton, Lester Biggins, Nick Gib, Chester Swick, Herman Berendt, Ben Keller, Ben Bartle, Charles Shaffer, DuWayne Jessop, Wayne Nye, Frank Blaine, Andy Fehl, Paul Cunningham, Joe Taylor, Lawrence Nicklas, Jack Adams, Joe Cook, Charles Tierre and Victor Morris. Of this group Gib, Swick, Berendt, Shaffer, Jessop, Nye, Blaine, Fehl, Nicklas, Adams and Cook are seniors.

Professor Predicts Rise In Price Of Daily Newspapers

(Special To The News)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—Readers of daily newspapers may expect to pay four or five cents a copy in the near future, according to Robert X. Graham, journalism professor at the University of Pittsburgh. Increased costs of newsprint and labor will force publishers to charge more he believes.

Indicating that the purchaser of a $900 automobile gets the labor of perhaps 200 men, that a $10 pair of shoes represents the work contribution of 20 to 30 workers; and that a 13 cent quart of milk involves only a few workers, Graham says that the purchaser of a copy of a daily paper gets 10,000 employees for his three cents.

Press associations have 700 staff workers, 5,000 part-time correspondents and "tipsters," and from 3,000 to 4,000 workers abroad. Metropolitan dailies, he points out, employ from 500 to 1,000 workers in the mechanical, editorial, business, advertising, circulation, and other departments.

Lumberjacks and others must cut trees, ship them to the mill, and make the wood pulp paper, he adds. Telephone operators, telegraph employees, and many others who contribute to the production of the daily paper swell the total.

Special features such as "columns," comic strips, illustrations, and serial fiction are made financially possible through cooperative effort, he explains.

"The newspaper represents the largest value and the greatest contribution of workers for the least amount of money of any product in the world," Graham says.

Uncle Sam Spends Less On Veterans Of State In Year

Report Is Made To Congress Of Expenditures On Veterans And Dependents

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.—Uncle Sam spent $1,996,599 less on war veterans and their dependents in Pennsylvania during the fiscal year ended last June 30 than in the previous fiscal period, according to figures sent to Congress today by General Frank T. Hines, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

General Hines' figures covered disbursements directly to veterans and their dependents and hospitalization expenditures, but did not include payments on adjusted service certificates. Such distribution of funds in the Keystone State totaled $35,036,450 during the 1937 fiscal year, ended last June 30. This was $1,996,599, or 5.4 per cent less, than similar disbursements in the previous fiscal year.

In the country as a whole, on the other hand, such distribution of funds was cut only 3.8 per cent.

Pennsylvania ranked third of the states in veterans costs last year. California came first, with a figure of $47,350,095, and New York followed second with $45,190,080. Such distribution totaled $31,296,800 in Ohio and $5,468,836 in West Virginia.

It is generally believed President Roosevelt will seek a further drastic reduction in disbursements to veterans and their dependents.

Accused Pair Brought Back To Pittsburgh

Accuse Former Hotel Owner
And Cleveland Nurse
Of Drugging Of Woman

SUM OF $15,000
REPORTED TAKEN

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—Finally returned to Pittsburgh from Cleveland after long extradition proceedings, Maxwell D. Pearce, once well-to-do local hotel man, and Margaret Gordon, a practical nurse of Cleveland, were to appear in court today to answer charges brought against them by Mrs. Lucille Pearce, of Canonsburg, that they drugged and robbed her of $15,000.

Pearce, estranged husband of Mrs. Pearce, and Miss Gordon, a middle-aged woman, both vehemently denied the charges against them.

The two were lodged in jail last night after being brought here from Cleveland by county detectives. It was the fourth trip the detectives had made for that purpose. Detective Chief Peter A. Connors said he would ask that bail be set at $15,000 each.

Woman Drugged
Mrs. Pearce charged her husband and Miss Gordon drugged her and brought her to Pittsburgh on October 8, 1936. They then forced her, she said, to open her safe deposit box in a Pittsburgh bank and turn over to them $15,000 in cash, securities and jewels.

Pearce said most of the property in the safe deposit box was his and that he turned over to his estranged wife everything that belonged to her.

After taking her property, continued Mrs. Pearce, according to Chief Connors, the pair held her in a hotel room for two days, keeping her under the influence of a drug and refusing her food and water.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The cold hand of war was punching the keys at the other end of the teletype, and the bulletin that came clicking from the machine carried a cruel punch. Just two or three lines, flashed from a town near strife-torn Teruel, Spain, but with a world of meaning—Edward J. Neil, correspondent of the Associated Press, died from wounds received when struck by splinters from an exploding shell in the village of Caude.

There are so many things that come crowding into the mind when a friend like Eddie Neil keeps his rendezvous with death that it is hard to know where to begin and what to say. Walking with him through thrilling years as a sports writer, knowing his great heart, his endless humor, his tremendous enthusiasm, we find ourselves confused.

Pictures came flashing from the past. Jack Dempsey is training somewhere on a sandy beach, and round-faced Eddie with the smiling Irish eyes comes to interview the champion. Dempsey solemnly shakes his hand, then plants a left hook in his ribs so hard they rattle. Eddie swings back, connects and the clinch and roll over and over—to begin a great friendship and understanding. You get a mental glimpse of Dempsey's face as he reads that Eddie Neil is dead.

The special train is rattling between Philadelphia and St. Louis for another world series game. Babe Ruth, Bill Corum and a few of the boys are playing stud. Eddie, of course, is there. Somebody comes up to the table and says that Bozeman Bulger has just been stricken with appendicitis, and they'll operate on him in St. Louis. Eddie grins. "The first sports writer ever to get a cut out of the world series," he cracks—and a half dozen of Eddie's colleagues cop that crack to brighten their notes next day.

They're holding the winter Olympic games at Lake Placid. One of the most hazardous of the sports is the bobsled run down the glittering sides of Mount Hoevenberg, where men flit with the Reaper on a groove of buttered glass. The eager face of Eddie Neil as he parks himself on one of the sleds to make the breath-taking run so that he can write something "first hand" about it.

A big fight in Chicago. In a crowded hotel lobby, a groggy wreck of a human being touches Eddie on the arm. An old fighter of a familiar type. "Never took a backward step"—that kind, flattened nose, eyes with not quite the right look. But he knows Eddie. And Eddie, one of the greatest writers of human interest sports stories our day has seen, does not fail him. Because Eddie is human, too, and the plea of a punch-drunk pug never finds him too busy. I wonder how many bucks Eddie has given those dilapidated knights of the knuckles "for a cup of coffee"?

Nights of song and stud poker in the hotels on the eve of big games or big fights, and Eddie's voice ringing out with one of his favorites, "Honey, honey, bless your heart." Sitting all night trying to fill inside straight and working all day in the press coop. Turning his boundless energy into the writing of a book about a college football hero.

Then the call of war. Italy rushing down upon the Lion of Judah in Abyssinian strongholds. Eddie Neil in a plane, covering that arduous, man-killing campaign from the seaport to the capital. And finally—Spain. Lugging the old portable from village to village, watching and living the hardest game of all. Telling the world the story of the toughest human interest drama that man can stage.

Well, and now that this has been written, into cold type, how shall it be ended? How can we give Eddie a sendoff that's halfway decent? It hardly seems adequate merely to say that a great newspaperman has been killed in the line of duty. He was such a splendid soul. I don't know. Perhaps we'll all understand these things better some day.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Today's candidate for the award to the most appropriately named ball player is Enos Slaughter. . . . Enos, champion slugger of the American Association last year, will join the Cardinals at St. Petersburg. . . . While we're about it, a fleet-footed youngster named Johnny Hopp comes to the Cards from Rochester. . . . and that seems to clean up the odd names department.

When a smart betting stable doesn't know when a horse is ready to win, who does? . . . What brings this to mind is the recent victory of Eschogh at Miami, paying $571 for a $2 ticket. . . . the mare is trained by Plain Ben Jones who saddled more than 100 winners last year. . . . "She was lame and broken down," said Plain Ben, "and I just entered her to see if she could run. She takes choppy steps and I didn't think she had much of a chance. But she got down two lengths in front, and they stuck her number up, so I guess she won." . . . Yep, Ben, guess she did.

Here it's still winter, but Bill McKee, new manager of the Cincinnati entry is on record with a violent statement to the effect that the Reds will not finish last. . . . no telling how excited Bill will be when it's time to go south. . . . Bill likes the pitching staff he'll have at Cincinnati, with promising youngsters like Whitey Moore and Johnny Vander Meer to go with Lefty Grissom, Paul Derringer, Ray Davis, Gene Schott and Al Houlihan.

That criticism heaped upon Don Budge for a poor showing in Australia recently just goes to show . . . the nub of the squawk was to the effect that when spectators paid $7.50 for tickets, they were entitled to a world series or something. . . . well, Mister Budge hardly ever disappoints but I guess he's like the rest of us, these days, . . . and how much of that $7.50 do you think goes to Mister Budge? . . . you're right again. . . . he gets a dime.

Great pitchers sometimes are destined to remain with inferior teams, and if Van Mungo is forced to do his flinging for Flatbush this year, with Simon Legree Grimes cracking the whip over him at every opportunity, Van need not feel that he is the only case in history. . . . Walter Johnson did it. . . . and any number of others. . . . it begins to appear that Mungo is going to remain with Brooklyn, all right.

Hockey, basketball and the six-day bikers are doing all right, chums. . . . in 17 nights at Detroit's Olympic, more than 200,000 persons attended hockey games. . . . Cleveland has been setting new records in the new Arena, selling standing room only for the Barons' games in a house that seats more than 10,000. . . . Madison Square Garden, in New York, has been packing them in regularly. . . . it's a great year for winter sports.
